Celebrating the Rich Heritage and Pioneering Spirit of Kentucky

AT LEXINGTON HEARTH,

we craft rustic mantels inspired by the heritage of Bourbon Country. Transform your space with the warmth and ambiance of a Lexington Hearth mantel — crafted with care, inspired by history.

ARCHITECTURAL PRESERVATION

Each mantel is a masterpiece, modeled after salvaged antique beams recovered from historic barns, farms, and cabins. From the rugged beauty of a weathered tobacco barn timber to the refined elegance of hand-chiseled limestone, our mantels are designed to capture the spirit of Kentucky living.

UNBEATABLE LEAD TIMES

Due to our sophisticated manufacturing capabilities, all our mantels are proudly made in the USA in Lexington, Kentucky, and ship in a matter of days – not weeks.

Bring the timeless allure of the Bluegrass region into your home today and transform your home into a warm and inviting haven filled with style and history.

CERTIFIED NON-COMBUSTIBLE

ASTM E136 testing assures that Lexington Hearth mantels will neither combust nor degrade under high temperatures.

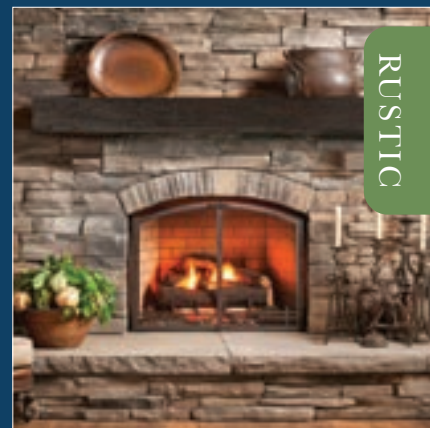

CREATION PROCESS BORN IN THE BLUEGRASS

- 1 INSPIRATION. We start by selecting the most unique samples, full of character and history. Then, we create molds that preserve every crack, check, and detail from the original beams and stones.
- 2 CASTING. Using our innovative casting techniques, we precisely form each non-combustible mantel in Burncrete.™
- 3 PAINTING. Finally, our artists hand-paint every piece, achieving a level of realism that brings the material to life.

SHADOW ROLL FLAGSTONE

Dry-stacked stone fences lining the roads and byways in Kentucky are a beautiful testament to the Scotch-Irish farmers' ingenuity in dealing with the land's abundant limestone. The stones from a Maysville farm were used to craft our Shadow Roll Stone Fence mantel, continuing a tradition of ingenuity passed down through generations.
